MEMORANDUM FOR: D/DCI/IC
AD/DCI/IC

SUBJECT : IC Staff Role in Education and Training

25X1 1. Several months ago I asked CPAD to look at the value of the IC Staff's functions in the education and training areas. I also asked them to make recommendations as to whether or not we should continue these functions; and, if so, suggest the most likely locations within the Staff for this function. [ ] produced the attached staff study. His investigation and the inputs from the Divisions did not have the benefit of our current organizational and functional review. There appeared to be general acceptance of the need to continue IC activities in education and training, but none of the organizations want to accept the responsibility.

25X1 2. At the present, we are marking time in this area. [ ] of the Coordination Staff has the files and is familiar with the interfaces and activities. However, due to other commitments and workloads he is merely answering the mail.

3. I suggest that we hold action in abeyance for the time being. As we move further along in our understanding of the functions and organization of the IC Staff, we can determine whether or not we plan to retain this function. At that time, assignment to the proper Staff element can be made and reflected in the next draft of our Letters of Instruction. You may desire to glance at this.
